Pulpit and Dew

Now that the war clouds, which have been darkening the horizon for many months, have burst in our midst, patriotism has the land in its grip The A.perican spirit is up in arms, and, the long period of watchful waiting being ended, this same spirit is responsible in every branch of society for the organization of the people in their battle for peace on earth.

The churches have been arrong the first to respond to the call for co-operation, and action is being effectively taken in all possible directions to do the multitude of things that give the most help to the most people

The tone of the subjects chosen by the ministers for tomorrow's sermons is decidedly patriotic and spirited. The following subjects are among those to be heard in the pulpits:

APRIL SCHEDULE

Reduced Prices Anthracite Coal

We beg to announce that our schedule of reduced prices on Anthracite Coal went into effect Monday, April 9th, 1917.

These prices will apply on deliverles made during the month of April, 1917. We have no assurances as to the cost of coal after May 1st, and therefore we can give no intimation of the prices that will prevail after that date.

It would therefore seem wise to prepare now against this uncertainty by placing your order with us at once to the full extent of your bin capacity. We advise that you place no restrictions on delivery, but to take the coal as soon as we are able to deliver it and at the price prevailing when the de-livery is made. Orders will be delivered in the order in which they are received, and any order or portions of orders remaining unfilled at the end of April will be delivered after that date at the prices prevalent at the time the delivery is made.

If you delay now, you will not only have to pay a higher price later, but will probably have great difficulty in getting coal at any price. In our opinion, conditions in the mining regions and on the railroads will be as bad this coming year if not worse than they were during the winter through which we have just passed.

Terms of payment: All invoices must be settled within thirty days after date of rendition, but a discount for prompt payment will be allowed on all invoices paid by the 10th of the month following the month in which the delivery
